

EXPULSION OF SOCIALIST ASSEMBLYMEN BY AN OVERWHELMING MAJORITY AFTER DEBATE LASTING ALL NIGHT

The Results Speak For Themselves," Says Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet, Initiator of Ouster Movement, When Asked If He Had Anything to Say

EVICTED MEMBERS WILL NOT QUIT

Satisfaction Will Be Sought in State Supreme Court, and This Failing, Resort to Federal Court Will Be Taken, Says Party's State Chairman

Albany, April 1.—The five Socialist members of the state assembly—Louis Waldman and August Claessens of New York, Samuel A. DeWitt and Samuel Orr of the Bronx, and Charles Solomon of Kings—were expelled from the lower house of the legislature today by an overwhelming majority.

The next step in the fight against the Socialist party, characterized as "traitorous party" by the assembly judiciary committee, which recommended, after investigation into the charges of disloyalty against the five Socialist assemblymen, that they be denied seats in the assembly, will be taken in the legislature tomorrow.

Bills designed to carry out the recommendations of the judiciary committee that "appropriate legislation be enacted to the end that hereafter no party, group or political organization in which aliens are acceptable as members, or whose principles, policies or programs are responsive to or determined by an organization, national or state, shall be privileged to occupy the position of a political party on the official ballot of this state," are expected to be introduced in the assembly.

"The results speak for themselves," said Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet, initiator of the ouster movement, when, after the assembly by its vote had unseated Waldman, Claessens, Solomon, DeWitt and Orr in the order named, he was asked if he had anything to say.

Waldman First Socialist Excluded.

Legislative circles tonight were discussing the statement given out late in the day by Louis Waldman and Charles Solomon, two of the ousted assemblymen, in which they said: "The workers by whom we were elected must and will be heard. If the people are to be driven from the ballot box where shall they go?"

Reports reaching here from New York that the Socialists would appeal to the courts were given little or no attention, most members of the assembly declaring that the courts could not review the action of the assembly in voting to deny seats to the five assemblymen, because, they said, "the house is a judge of its own members and its decision is final."

Expulsion today of the five assemblymen—the entire representation of the Socialist party in the assembly—came after members debated the majority reports of the judiciary committee for nearly 24 hours.

The first Socialist to be excluded from the assembly was Louis Waldman, the lower house voting separately on each of the members accused of disloyalty. This vote to unseat Waldman was 116 for and 23 against. It was by the same vote that Claessens and Solomon were stripped of their legislative position. On the roll call on the committee's recommendation to expel Orr and DeWitt, 12 members, nine Republicans and three Democrats, who voted to declare the seats of Waldman, Claessens and Solomon vacant, changed front and voted against expulsion.

Colonel Roosevelt Against Expulsion.

Thousands of words were spoken for and against the Socialist assemblymen before the final roll call. Members of both parties clamored for recognition throughout the long hours of the night so they could have their speeches read into the records.

Speaker Sweet, for the second time in his career as speaker of the assembly, spoke from the floor in support of the committee report, while Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Republican of Nassau, and Miss Marguerite L. Smith, Republican of New York, made their maiden speeches. Colonel Roosevelt argued against the expulsion of the five men, while Miss Smith, in a three minute address, gave her reasons for voting to sustain the majority report of the judiciary committee.

Majority Leader Simon L. Adler of Monroe, who voted to expel Waldman, Claessens and Solomon and to restore Orr and DeWitt to their seats, in his speech explaining his vote, denied reports that there was a movement on foot among Republicans to discipline him for his "opinion on this important matter," by retiring him as majority leader.

The vote on the expulsion of Waldman, whose case was the first to be taken upon by the assembly, came at the end of 22 hours of oratory, parliamentary wrangles and filibustering. Owing to the fact that the men were expelled after midnight on March 31, there can be no special elections to fill their seats in the assembly unless an extraordinary session of the legislature is to be convened.

By its action the assembly established a precedent.

Party lines disappeared in the voting. The Democratic minority, which was supposed to be pretty well united in favor of reseatting the Socialists, after a majority of one vote in favor of expelling Waldman, Claessens and Solomon, the Democratic vote on these men being 18 for unseating and 17 for restoring them to their former legislative status. Twenty-one Democrats voted to reseat DeWitt and Orr, while 14 favored their expulsion.

Vote of Republicans.

The Republicans, by a division of 12 to 21, voted to unseat Waldman, Claessens and Solomon, and to restore Orr and DeWitt to their seats.

of Schenectady, consistently favored their retention.

The roll call to expel Waldman, Claessens and Solomon were identical, 116 to 23, while in the cases of DeWitt and Orr the vote was 194 to 40.

Voting on the question of expelling the Socialist members of the New York Assembly was begun at 9:33 a. m., today when the clerk started calling the roll on the resolution contained in the report of the judiciary committee calling for the unseating of Louis Waldman.

Will Appeal to Courts.

New York, April 1.—The five Socialists expelled from the New York assembly today will appeal to the supreme court and if necessary to the United States supreme court. S. John Block, state chairman of the socialist party, announced here tonight. He said counsel for the Socialists, of which he is one, will meet in a day or two to determine whether an immediate appeal to the New York supreme court should be made.

"The fact that action was taken by a majority of the assembly does not establish the constitutionality of that action in any way," he said. "In fact, the action of the assembly was the most unconstitutional ever taken in the history of democratic government in the United States. The action was an invasion of the constitutional rights of the voters of the five districts the expelled assemblymen represented, as well as of the five men themselves."

"They met all the constitutional qualifications of membership in the assembly, and by no fantastic comic opera interpretation of the constitution can one political party aided by a minority party or any group of political parties, constitute itself or themselves censor over the platforms and principles of any other political party. The voters are the censors with power to approve or reject."

"To allow their decision to go unchallenged would be tantamount to acquiescing in the establishing of autocratic government in the United States."

Samuel Orr, one of the deposed assemblymen, representing the fourth district of the Bronx, said: "It is needless to say that this will not abolish Socialism. An idea can never be abolished. The Kaiser and the Czar tried it and failed miserably in the attempt."

Veterans Condemn Assembly's Act.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 1.—Resolutions condemning the action of the New York state assembly for expulsion of the five Socialist members today were adopted here by the first state and northwestern district convention of the World War veterans. The convention voted to send a telegram to the assembly declaring the expulsion an "act opposed to democracy."

Another resolution adopted branded universal training as "Prussianism," and stated that such legislation would have a tendency to encourage war. The resolution protested against any form of universal military training or conscription except in time of war. National bonuses for former service men and women were approved.

Atlanta, Ga., April 1.—The name of President Wilson, which had been entered by petition in the Georgia presidential preferential primary, has been withdrawn by action of a number of signers of the petition.

FINISH PLANS TO END PRESENT STATE OF WAR

Chairman of Democratic National Committee Vigorously Assails Republican Actions

Washington, April 1.—Republican leaders in the house completed today their plans to put through a week from tomorrow a resolution declaring the state of war with Germany at an end. The measure was favorably reported today by the foreign affairs committee and will be taken up next Thursday, under a nine-hour debate rule, which will bring the vote on Friday.

Action of the Republicans drew fire tonight from Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National Committee. In a statement to press representatives, he said it marked about "the lowest point of moral capacity to which Republican leadership has descended." It was an attempt, he added, to use the treaty of Versailles without first accepting it and could and probably would lead to international complications "the seriousness of which it is difficult at this time to conjecture."

The resolution was reported on a strict party vote by the foreign affairs committee. Representative Huddleston, Democrat of Alabama, refused to vote, but his colleagues on the committee all oppose the report.

Later Republican leaders revised their plans to call the measure up Monday because of the probable absence of members on that day owing to the Easter holiday. They had no doubt that it would be adopted, although the Democrats were lining up against it, but were not equally confident that the necessary two-thirds to carry it over a presidential veto could be obtained.

In that connection, Mr. Cummings said he did not think "for one moment" that the President would sign such a resolution. He said the house was attempting to exercise powers it did not possess.

"Discussing the general political situation, Mr. Cummings indicated that the Democratic leaders expected to have the aid of the President in the coming campaign."

"I hope that the President will be able to participate actively in the campaign," he said. "He is improved in health and while he may not be able to take the stump, he can still write, and he can always be heard through his writings." He said he had not discussed this phase lately with the President, but that he had "little difficulty in ascertaining the President's position on questions which I deem crucial."

RIDICULES COAL PRICE BOOST

Mine Workers Declare Recent Wage Advance Does Not Justify Producers' Action

New York, April 1.—Ellis Searles, speaking in behalf of the United Mine Workers of America, declared tonight that the 27 per cent wage increase just granted bituminous mine workers does not justify the price increases of 55 cents to $1.50 a ton which operators have announced will have to be made. He added that the increase in cost of production would not exceed 40 to 50 cents a ton and he disclaimed responsibility on the part of the workers for the proposed price advance.

Union officials still gathered here today after yesterday's meeting at which the new wage agreement was ratified, conferred on the effects of the wage increase and the announced intention of mine owners to advance prices.

BOXING DEVOTEES LOSE HOPE

Adoption of Walker Bill During Present Legislative Session Is Doubtful

Albany, April 1.—Hope that the New York state legislature would enact legislation designed to legalize boxing in this state was virtually abandoned here tonight. Announcement was made by Senator James J. Walker, minority leader of the senate, that he would make no effort to bring his bill out of the assembly ways and means committee, to which it was referred after being received from the senate, where it was passed recently.

Senator Walker, in making his announcement, said that he would not move the bill until the "surroundings, behind-the-door campaign against it of those who should favor its advancement is stopped."

MARINE WALKOUT TIES UP FERRIES

Strike Call Is Obedied by All but One Line After Commuters Are at Home

Exceptional Preparations to Handle Flow of Traffic to Lackawanna Tube, Made

New York, April 1.—Obeying a strike call involving between 8,000 and 15,000 marine workers, crews operating railroad ferry boats began at 9 o'clock tying up their craft after the rush of homeward bound commuters had ended. Engine room and deck forces of railroad tugs and lighters were called out this afternoon.

All railroad ferries operated between Manhattan and the Jersey shore, except the Lackawanna line, which were able to continue through three previous strikes, were affected. The men are striking, according to officers of the Amalgamated union, to "enforce a continued observance of the eight-hour day," which they say is threatened by the action of one of these ferries in selling parts of its tug and harbor barges to a "so-called independent company, not under jurisdiction of railroad regulation."

Private companies work under a 10-hour day schedule, according to William H. Maher, vice president of the National Association of Masters, Mates and Pilots. While men involved in the strike recently presented demands for wage increases said by their leaders to amount to approximately 50 per cent, both sides agreed this phase of the situation is not an issue in the existing trouble. The demands it was explained, are now under consideration by the railroad.

Sale of a number of harbor craft owned by the Erie and used in handling cargo was completed shortly after the roads regained control of its property from the government. It is claimed that the road could handle the traffic through contract with independent concerns.

Explains Differences at Stake.

A number of employees of the Erie operating these boats were laid off with the sale of the property, and the unions are asking that these men be reinstated. Maher declared union officials had learned other roads were preparing to follow the lead of the Erie, in transferring their harbor craft to private companies, a move which is termed a subterfuge.

Mr. Mantell, speaking for the Erie railroad, said the company to which it sold some of its tug boats was "an independent tow boat company," and that the road entered into a contract with this company to handle some of its lighterage freight at a "considerable reduction."

He contended the "men are on strike because the railroads are attempting to carry out their legal obligations as common carriers in towing United Fruit company boats." The United Fruit company recently became involved in the strike of coastwise longshoremen, which had resulted in the tying up of a number of the lines carrying passengers and freight between New York and Atlantic and Gulf coast ports.

Guided by their experience on previous occasions, the Hoboken police went on the theory that an enormous stream of traffic will flow through the Hudson tubes and over the Lackawanna lines.

Exceptional preparations were made to handle this traffic and a special motorcycle squadron was assigned to keep open lanes leading to tube entrances and ferry houses. Although no disturbances have been reported, strong detachments of police are guarding ferry houses on both sides of the Hudson.

Walkout Is Conducted Orderly.

In accordance with their promise, the strike leaders ordered no tieup of ferries until commuters had been served. The craft began stopping within a few minutes of scheduled time. There was no disorder and after tying up their boats, the men went home.

Officials of the railroad companies affected announced they would make no attempt to operate ferries during the night, but an intimation that strike breakers might be employed was given at the office of the Erie railroad, by J. J. Mantell, chairman of the New York sub committee of the general managers' association. He said the railroads "would do all in their power to operate the boats and serve the public."

The strike which involves also freight handlers affiliated with unions included in the Marine Workers' association comes at a time when several thousand coastwise longshoremen have stopped work.

Ferries and tugs operated by the city and harbor craft, owned and controlled by the shipping board or other branches of the government, will not be affected by the strike, the union leaders said. The railroads concerned in the strike order include the West Shore, Erie, New York Central, Lackawanna, Pennsylvania, New York New Haven and Hartford and Central Railroad of New Jersey and Baltimore and Ohio.

SOCIALIST CASE ENDED ASSEMBLY WORKS FAST

Passes More Than 70 Bills, Advances 20 Others and Fixes Final Adjournment April 16

Albany, April 1.—With the expulsion of the five socialist members from the New York state assembly today, the lower house of the legislature lost no time in getting down to business. After adjourning the Wednesday session soon after 10 a. m., the house reconvened at 2 p. m., for today's session, adopted a resolution fixing April 16 as the date for final adjournment, extending the life of the judiciary committee, which investigated the socialist assemblymen, by resolution until April 17, passed more than 70 bills and advanced 20 to the order of final passage.

The resolution fixing April 16 as the date for final adjournment is expected to be amended in the senate to provide for an adjournment on April 24.

While next Monday and Tuesday will be legislative days, it is not expected that much business will be transacted on account of the Presidential primaries on Tuesday. With the passing of Tuesday, however, the rules committee of the assembly will assume charge of all bills not reported by the standing committees by that time, excepting, of course, legislation before the judiciary committee, which has been unable to do any great amount of legislative work because its time was almost entirely devoted to the socialist case.

Resolutions providing for an investigation of the Anti Saloon league and calling upon William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the league, to appear before the committee are among the chief matters before the judiciary committee, but there is a feeling in legislative circles that no action will be taken by the committee upon them.

VICE "HUNTERS" CALL HALT

Jurors Will Again Be Called Together After a Week's So-Called Recess It Is Said

New York, April 1.—New York's vice hunters today stacked arms "for about a week."

At the end of that time, Raymond F. Almiral, foreman of the extraordinary grand jury which has been trailing "an overshadowing crime for many months and recently has been exonerating witnesses on charges preferred against Assistant District Attorney James F. Smith by members of the police department he is investigating, announced he would call the jurors into session again further to consider allegations that Mr. Smith used his office to protect vice. These charges were made in six affidavits by Police Inspector Dominic Henry of the tenderloin district and supplemented by "information" divulged by Commissioner of Accounts Hirschfeld, who has been conducting a separate gambling investigation.

There are now outstanding 100,000 shares, but on Monday next this amount will be increased to 120,000 shares by the recently declared stock dividend of one fifth of a share, pro rata.

The new stock dividend would be declared payable in quarterly installments in July and October, 1920, and January and April, 1921.

The directors also held a special meeting to discuss the action of the New York Stock exchange which yesterday ordered an indefinite suspension of trading in the company's shares. The result of their deliberations was not divulged.

RAIL WAGE ISSUE NOW DEADLOCKED

Negotiations Between Representatives of Roads and Unions Are Broken Off

OPERATORS STAND OUT

Decline to Continue Consideration of Demands Unless Public Be Given A Voice

Washington, April 1.—Wage negotiations between the conference committees representing the railroads and the union, were broken off tonight when the railroad representatives declined to continue consideration of demands which have been estimated to total $1,000,000,000 unless the public was given a voice in the proceedings.

Under the provision of the transportation act, the wage controversy now will be referred to the railroad labor board, which is yet to be appointed by President Wilson. The law provides for three representatives of the public on this board.

E. T. Whittier, chairman of the railway executive conference committee announced the decision in a statement which said the two sides were in disagreement as to the provision of the transportation act. The union representatives were said to hold that the law contemplates an agreement between the railroads and the employees prior to any opportunity for participation by the representatives of the public. The railroad committee held that such an agreement might be reached but they did not believe that "congress ever contemplated that a controversy involving so great an addition to transportation costs and in which the public is therefore so vitally interested should be disposed of by direct negotiations."

Mr. Whittier's statement said in part:

"The representatives of the railroads take the position that they could not assume the responsibility of adding such a burden to the cost of transportation, which are necessarily born by the public, without the full knowledge of the public through its representatives and we must therefore decline the requests and let the entire matter be disposed of as provided in the transportation act."

"This means that the controversy must be submitted to the railroad board to be appointed by the President in accordance with the terms of the law on which the public will have three representatives, the employees three and the railroad management three. We invited the committee representing the employees to join with us in the formation of a committee to prepare data on the various aspects of the subject which we feel must ultimately be presented to the labor board in any event, with a view to expediting the disposition of this difficult problem. They declined to join with us in the formation of such a committee. They have announced their intention of appealing to the labor board."

COMMENT ON IRISH HOME RULE

Wide Gap Between Enactment and Enforcement Is Cited by the Irish Times

Dublin, April 1.—The Irish Times, commenting on the Irish Home Rule bill, says that even should it become law there would remain a wide gap between enactment and enforcement. It declares:

"Two points will become more obvious as the bill moves toward the statute books — it surrenders three-fourths of Ireland to the forces of anarchy and plants a cancer in every heart in the empire."

The Freeman's Journal says: "The bill can have no other effect than to make confusion more confounded."

The Irish Independent says: "The bill was framed on the assumption that the Irish people are idiots and that any abominable system of government is good enough for them."

ARMISTICE RULES CONTROL

MARKET AGAIN DULL

AND OFTEN HESITANT

Easter Recess And Stutz Motor Episode Are Held Largely Responsible for Condition

New York, April 1. — The Easter recess and the attitude of the stock exchange authorities towards pools, as suggested by the Stutz Motor episode, were primarily responsible for today's dull and hesitant market.

Some encouragement was derived from the comparative ease of call money, which opened at eight per cent and held at that quotation until the final hour, when belated borrowing forced the price to 10 per cent. This was offset, however, by the greater scarcity of some money, which was unchanged, but actually unobtainable except for moderate amounts, mostly in the form of renewals.

Dealings in the leading foreign exchange remittances were unusually light, the London quotation rising slightly over yesterday's best, with nominal recoveries in French and Italian bills.

Half a score of issues made up the bulk of today's small turnover, Crucible Steel and General Motors being the most prominent of the recent favorites. Crucible fluctuated within a ten-point radius and closed at a loss of one and one-half points. General Motors were less erratic, closing well toward its best quotation at a gain of 5 1/2, while other steel, motors, equipments and oil finished at irregular, but moderate gains on losses.

Rails and shippings were dull, but mainly higher, as were also several of the food and utility issues and a few miscellaneous stocks, notably U. S. Realties at a gain of about eight points.

Bonds were heavy, especially high-grade ones, including Pennsylvania 5s and 4 1/2s Liberty 3 1/2s also yielded, but foreign issues, notably United Kingdom of 1937, hardened. Old U. S. bonds unchanged on call.

Put Them in Trenches.

"The trouble encountered in holding the big British drive at her moorings," said Forest Hilliers at the office, "gave me an idea which I think I will pass on to the war department. If a trench had been dug at Mineola, say 1,000 feet long and as wide and deep as the balloon, she could have been anchored in it, shielded from the wind, and perfectly safe." "Run," somebody asked, "how would they have gone about it to get the R-34 down in the hole?" "Oh," replied Hilliers, "that would have been up to the officers of the flying field." — Newark News.

FARMS STILL ARE CHEAP.

In proportion to the value of farm products New York farms are cheaper now than they have ever been. No exact figures are available, but according to John B. Shepard of the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates, the present value of the farms of the state is probably between 1 1/2 and 1 3/4 billion dollars. According to the estimates of nearly a thousand crop reporters, the increase in value has been about 10 per cent during the last year, perhaps 10 to 50 per cent during the last 10 years and about 60 per cent during the last 50 years. Since 1915 farm products have increased in value much more rapidly than has the land. The farms of the state are now worth only about three and a third times as much as last year's crops. Before the World war the farms of the state were, in each census year, worth nearly six times as much as a year's crop. Probably never before, even in pioneer days, could a man buy a good farm in this state and make it pay for itself as quickly as is possible today, yet the movement of population is still away from the independent outdoor life on the farms towards the "other wages, shorter working hours and better living conditions of the cities."

These things should be of interest to men of Otsego who have a mind returning to the soil; and not less to the considerable number of non-residents, who, attracted by the excellent reports they have read or heard, are considering the purchase of a farm in the finest county in the state.

HOW ABOUT AUTO LICENSES?

Motorists must equip their cars at once with the new number plates if they expect to escape arrest. Members of the state police are in Chenango county, and probably will at an early date visit Otsego and they have been instructed to prosecute all who are driving their cars with an old license plate or none at all.

All persons using 1919 license plates and who cannot produce evidence that they applied for 1920 plates preceding the first day of February, are subject to arrest and prosecution. If drivers of cars applied before that date and have not yet received their number plates, they are exempt from prosecution, though they may be held pending the necessary evidence.

It is stated that on account of the deep snows of the winter, which made motoring impossible, many owners of cars neglected to secure their 1920 plates in February. The season is now on, however, and car owners would do well to apply for the new plates at once if they desire to avoid prosecution.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Domestic Science Class Serves Luncheon.

An April Fool luncheon was given in the Domestic Science rooms by the Domestic Science class of Miss Covey's grade yesterday. The class prepared and served the luncheon. The guests of honor were Miss Mildred Martin of New York city, Miss Strong, Miss Crane and Mrs. Covey. The host was Miss Beatrice Osterhout. The hostess was Miss Mary Spencer. The following menu was served:

April Fool Menu.
Fool's Caps April Follies
Bananas (Salad)
Mock Chicken Potatoes
Marbles
Jenny Cake
Mock Broth

The feature of the luncheon was the reversal of the menu. The center piece was lettuce and celery. The menu cards were fool's caps. In connection with the luncheon there were April fool jokes and fun.

Canine Species Well Represented.

Since March 1, 252 dog licenses have been issued at the city clerk's office. This would indicate that the canine species is well represented in Oneonta. The many stray dogs that have infested the streets of the city have greatly decreased in number and it is hoped that they will not again become so numerous as to be a nuisance to pedestrians and drivers of vehicles.

Services at Universalist Church.

The Rev. Stannard D. Butler will occupy the pulpit at the Chapin Memorial Universalist church on Easter Sunday. The subject of his sermon will be, "Passion Week as Acted by the Villagers of Oberammergau." There will be special Easter music in the morning and an Easter cantata in the evening. All members and others who desire to do so are cordially invited to attend.

Green Farm for Sale.

The sale of the Lester Green farm on South Side has apparently fallen through, Ellis Cronauer, the purchasing, having failed to keep the terms of the sale. Mr. Green, who has purchased a small place adjoining his farm, is again advertising the farm.

HAILED GODDESS OF SPRING.

Heathen Saxons Had Their Festival When They Worshipped Easter, Before Dawn of Christianity.

In ancient times the Saxons were worshippers of the heathen goddess Eostre whose festival fell in the spring. The feast of the Resurrection falling in the spring also, the name was transformed to the Christian feast which, in the Saxon church, was regarded as the queen of festivals. It was termed the Day of Light, and from midnight of Easter eve until daylight the churches were brilliantly illuminated and decorated. On Easter morning the people flocked to the elaborate service, and especially to witness the symbolic resurrection from the sepulcher. This was represented by the priest's elevating in full view of the people the supposed body of the risen Christ.

In connection with the celebration in the churches the people indulged in feasting and rejoicing in their own homes. This was but a natural reaction from the rigorous fast of Lent imposed by the church, during which no meat whatever was eaten and on Good Friday no food at all was permitted.

The custom of using eggs is supposed to have originated with the ancient Greeks and Romans, who colored them to use in their pagan festival. Marvellous stories may be found of bewitched eggs, said to be able to fly straight toward the sun, and one famous variety was said to have been laid by a rabbit. The story of the origin of the Easter egg seems to be a mixture of the Christian and Pagan legend, and is as follows:

"There fell from the heavens, long long ago, an egg of immense size; it rested on the Euphrates, when a dove descended and hatched it, and out of it arose a splendid beauty of Venus."

NORMAL GIRLS VICTORIOUS.

Carry Off Honors in Indoor Meet by Score of 57 to 23.

Watched by a large crowd made up mostly of students, the Normal girls defeated the High School girls in the annual indoor meet held last evening at the armory. The final score was 57 to 23.

The first two events, marching tactics and free gymnastics, resulted in a tie, the judges deciding that neither side did better than the other but that both did "great." The Normals got their lead in the next event, however, for they gave an Irish lilt in true E-in fashion, which evidently appealed more to the judges than did a gypsy dance by the High School girls. This dance was followed by a game of volley ball which was won by the Normals 16 to 11.

Event No. 5, a dumb bell drill by the Normals and wand drill by the High School girls, also was proclaimed a tie, as was the figure marching competition. The girls from the school on the hill carried off the other two events, winning the goal ball game, 96 to 7, and also the shuttle relay. Although the larger share of the honors went to the Normal girls, who are deserving of great credit for their work, the High school made a good showing. Both sides were cheered on lustily by their supporters from the side-lines, but the judges did not decide which side made the best show.

MABEL OF TARBELL FARMS.

H. Klein Cow Owned by M. H. Buckley Holds County Record for Year.

The showing made by Otsego county Guernsey cattle in the Advanced Register, is one of which all lovers of dairy cattle may be proud. The cow which has held the coveted position at the head of the club's column in the News for the past three years, as having made the largest record of any Guernsey in the county, is Fay of Hammond, owned by Frank M. Smith. Her record is 12,707.2 pounds of milk and 632.1 pounds of butter fat. Other records of note have been made at Broad Acres by Mr. Smith's cattle, the most notable of which is that of Gem of Broad Acres which made 10,817.8 pounds of milk and 495.77 pounds of butter fat and dropped a calf within a year. This record was made as a senior two-year-old and gives her ninth place among the double letter class leaders.

The record of Fay of Hammond has recently been surpassed by Mabel of Tarbell farms, owned at Cathedral farm by H. H. Buckley. Her record is that of 13,110.9 pounds of milk and 751.97 pounds of butter fat, giving her ninth place among the junior four-year-olds of the breed, in the single letter class. Thus it will be seen, that among the 140 class leaders of the breed, two are owned in Otsego county. Given in the terms of butter using 50 per cent butter fat, which are used by so many Otsego dairymen, the record of Mabel of Tarbell farms is that of 956.21 pounds of butter.—[Farm Bureau News.

F. M. SMITH CHOSEN SECRETARY.

Of State Farm Bureau Association—Plan Day at State Fair.

Hon. Frank M. Smith, president of the Otsego County Farm Bureau association, was elected secretary of the New York State Farm Bureau association at a meeting of the directors of the association held at the Otsego hotel in Syracuse on Tuesday succeeding Prof. H. E. Babcock, who resigned to become manager of the association. Mr. Smith has long been recognized as a zealous and valued member of the state association and his selection is gratifying to his friends in Otsego.

The state association has been requested to conduct a Farm and Home Bureau day at the State fair and a tentative date has been suggested as Tuesday, September 13th. It is planned to have a program that will make the day very profitable for all interested in Farm Bureau and Home Economic work.

It was decided to appoint a committee of two Farm Bureau workers and one Home Economics member to work with a larger committee of 25 to conduct a survey or study of the state school system from a rural viewpoint. Increased interest in the schools and the need that they make provision for training in agriculture is being manifested.

"THE FATHER OF THE MAN"

THIS is "Jimmy," towheaded, with an eye that meets yours unswervingly, and as winsome a laddie as ever knelt for bedtime prayers. Jimmy is one of more than 25,000 homeless or poor children yearly cared for by the Salvation Army in the United States, and he lives in one of the Army's many orphanages. "Send me a papa and mama!" is the burden of "Jimmy's" nightly pleas. "And—and, God bless the Salvation Army!" he almost invariably adds.

The Salvation lassies find fully as much enjoyment in caring for "Jimmy" and his thousands of brothers and sisters as they did in frying doughnuts for doughboys and marines in France. If the child is father to the man, they argue, the father must have a good bringing up. And so the chain of the Salvation Army orphanages, day nurseries and children's hospitals that stretch from coast to coast.

WHITE SUCCEEDS ARNOLD.

George H. White Elected President of First National Bank of Cooperstown. Cooperstown, April 1. — At a meeting of the directors of the First National bank of this village, held this morning, George H. White was elected president of that well known institution to succeed Lynn J. Arnold. Mr. White at once assumed the duties.

George H. White is one of the best known citizens of this village and his record in banking circles is well and favorably known. He was formerly and for years cashier of the bank of which he now becomes president and he has more recently been its vice president. He enjoys to the fullest degree the confidence not only of the business community but of the wide circle of patrons of the bank in the surrounding country. Not only is Mr. White but the directors of the institution are to be congratulated upon his election.

Many residents recall today the time years ago when quite young and occupying a minor position in a banking institution he sacrificed his position rather than do an act which although perfectly legal on his part, was not in accordance with his conception of honor and propriety. These acquaintances are gratified today to see him elevated to the presidency of the First National.

Pheasant remains in City.

The hen pheasant which has frequented various parts of the city during the winter and has been fed by residents is still seen in different vicinities. It is a rather curious fact that the bird has not sought the forests, where food is now plentiful, at the conclusion of the past winter. It has evidently, through has persuasion of shelter and plentiful food, become accustomed to the city and is now so tame that a hand may be placed on it while it is feeding.

ALARY FOR MAYOR APPROVED

M. C. HEMSTREET, DR. GEO. J. DANN AND L. H. TOWNSEND SPEAK IN FAVOR.

Endorsement of City Now Goes to Governor of Measure Giving Salary of $600 to Mayor.

After a short hearing, conducted by the common council last evening, on the measure amending the charter of the city of Oneonta and providing for an annual salary of $600 for the mayor, which has passed the legislature and is now in the hands of the governor, the proposed legislation was approved and a resolution ratifying the same and requesting the governor to sign the measure was passed, a copy of which will be forwarded to Governor Smith today.

Little interest was apparently manifested in the hearing, three taxpayers appearing to be heard—all in favor of the salary for the mayor. Cashier M. C. Hemstreet of the Citizens' National was the first speaker. He said that he had nothing to do with the proposition at its inception. Had he been consulted, Mr. Hemstreet stated he would have made the salary larger. Now the best he could do is to urge that the legislation be approved.

Dr. George J. Dann, superintendent of schools, in his remarks said that he had computed his share of the salary at 22 cents and he believed it should be paid. He said that the salary proposed will little more than cover the expenses necessarily incurred incidentally to the position. He said that the municipality has passed the small village stage and could no longer expect its chief officer to work for nothing and board himself. L. H. Townsend of the Townsend Hardware company also approved the measure and declared it his belief that the city should pay a salary to the members of the common council.

The resolution accepting and approving the measure was then passed, all the aldermen present, Messrs. Bolton, Coy, Morris and Tammert, voting affirmatively. The resolution also approves the provision that the policemen and firemen shall be paid semi-monthly.

New Policemen Named.

At the civil service examination held on Tuesday, three passed for the position of patrolman on the city force. Ralph Simmons, Harry Cross and Alvin Walling. At a meeting of the board of police commissioners held yesterday, Mr. Simmons was elected a patrolman and Harry Cross was made a regular member of the force, but will be assigned to extra duty when needed. The action requires the approval of the Common Council to make it permanent. Mr. Simmons has been serving for some time. Mr. Cross will at once be subject to call for extra work.

Barbers Advance Prices.

Haircuts at union barber shops in this city were on April 1 advanced to 50 cents, an increase of 10 cents. Hereafter shaves with hot towels and neck shaved will cost 25 cents, which sum you will pay whether you desire all the extras given or not. Formerly shaves cost 20 cents with an extra charge of 5 cents for the neck shave. The prices of a facial massage and of plain shampoos advance also from 35 to 40 cents each.

Normal School Boarding List.

A new list of boarding places for Normal students will be issued during the month of April. Those wishing to have their names appear on this list should send their names and addresses to A. M. Curtis, 84 Maple street, on or before April 7th. It is requested that the address be sent by mail on a postal card. Please do not use the telephone. advt 11

THE MATHEWS CO. OPENING.

Thousands of Visitors Throng the Modern, Well Appointed Store. "Far beyond our expectations" was the way Mr. Mathews of the Mathews company expressed himself at the close of the opening day at the modern and up-to-date store in the Gardner & Falls building of that concern. The store was thrown open to the public at noon yesterday, and between that hour and 10 o'clock last evening, when the store closed, it was estimated that three or four thousand people had inspected the attractive showing of high-class wearing apparel for men, women and children.

Visitors were as enthusiastic in praise of the appearance of the store as was Mr. Mathews of the interest manifested by the public, and they declared the store to equal the best in the larger cities. "We were disappointed ourselves because of the non-arrival of our display fixtures, both for the show windows and the interior display," said Mr. Mathews last evening. The public were not aware that anything was lacking. The entrance is modern and attractive and the interior, with finely finished cases, rugs adorning the floors, the walls tastefully tinted and indirect lighting system and hot water heating with concealed radiation—all create a most favorable impression.

The young ladies' orchestra from Keenan's cafeteria played pleasantly during the afternoon and evening, and while what was considered a liberal supply of flowers lasted they were distributed to the lady visitors. The rush of callers was so great and the attention given to all by the clerical force so constant that not until last evening was it discovered that the souvenirs intended for the men had been overlooked entirely and remained in the office undistributed. They will be distributed among customers while they last.

Mr. Mathews will remain in the city for a few months at least, giving his personal attention to the Oneonta store and will be assisted by S. Albert, who will be the resident manager. J. Gesspass, the New York representative of the company, was in attendance on the opening day to observe and learn the demands of the local trade.

HENRY SAUNDERS DIRECTOR.

Has Charge of New World Baptist Movement in Otsego County.

Henry Saunders, of 21 Walnut street, Oneonta, has been appointed director in Otsego county of the campaign in which Baptists throughout the north and west seek to raise $100,000,000 between April 25 and May 2nd. He is organizing local churches much the same as communities were organized during the great war work drives.

Among the aims of the New World Movement of Northern Baptists, which will be furthered by the fund, are Christian work among the foreign-born of the United States, expansion of religious and educational institutions supported by the denomination, increased salaries and pensions for ministers and missionaries and enlarged foreign mission work.

More than three-quarters of the fund, or $75,000,000, will be spent in this country during the next five years, and, of this amount, $20,000,000 has been set aside for the development of 49 Baptist schools and colleges. Of the $24,000,000 allotted to the foreign mission field, a large part will be expended in providing adequate hospitals, schools and institutions for natives in the Far East and Africa.

What Can We Do For You?

THE main idea here is conveyed in that question at the head of this advertisement; what can we do for a customer?

We can do a good deal if he will let us; doing things for people depends on something more than the desire to do things; you've got to be willing to let us do things.

We can supply you with the right kind of things to wear: it's our business to know what the right things are; and to have them here; and sell them at a fair price based on what they actually cost.

When we show you a Hart Schaffner & Marx overcoat or suit, we're doing our best for you.

FURNISHINGS THAT ARE NEW

There are new hats, shirts and neckwear in new colorings and fabrics, whatever you need. Let us know.

Philip Walter DL

Philip Walter, son of Secretary L. W. Walter of the Chamber of Commerce, went to the Fox hospital on Wednesday, suffering from a severe swelling of the glands of the neck, causing him much inconvenience and annoyance. Dr. Mills, who is attending him, lanced the neck. Yesterday the young man was more comfortable, although the swelling had not reduced greatly in size. Mr. Walter's sister, Mrs. John E. Wirtner, of Rochester, has arrived in the city to spend a few days with her brother.

The Easter Parade

Isn't confined to New York city.
Of course, here in Oneonta, Main street isn't hedged with cameras and reporters ready to flash to Kamchatka full details of the marvelous apparel of Mrs. VanPlushvelt.
But just the same, Mrs. Willoughby's suit is argued over many an Easter dinner table, which is just as important to Mrs. Willoughby as Sunday Pictorial illustrations are to Mrs. VanPlushvelt.
You may feel confident of the style and appearance of your Spring Coat, Suit, or Dress if it comes from Capron's.
Lack of clothes confidence has prevented full appreciation of many an Easter sermon.

The Biggest Value
At a Fair Price
Price is a serious problem with many families in the purchase of clothing. To get good quality at fair and moderate prices without an intimate knowledge of values is now possible by selecting Clothcraft. Scientific methods of manufacture used by Clothcraft cut so many wastes in production that these clothes not only sell at moderate prices, but give guaranteed wear and service.

DEATHS.

Mrs. May Forbes Millard.
Mrs. May Forbes Millard died at the Memorial hospital at 1 p. m. Thursday following an operation she underwent about two weeks ago for the relief of a fibroid tumor. She had labored steadily since the operation. The funeral arrangements were completed yesterday and will be announced in Saturday's Star.
The deceased was a native of Paterson, N. J., where she was born in 1851. Her mother having died when she was a few years of age, she came to this locality and made her home with Mrs. Samuel Baker, a relative of her mother. She was known to many as May Baker although never having been formally adopted by her foster parents. She was married to Harley Millard in 1907 and one son was born to them, Melvin, who has resided with the mother since they separated after about one year of married life.
Mrs. Millard has been employed for years in this city as domestic nurse and for the past two years she has been the attendant of Eva Keyes. She was a member of the First Baptist church of this city. All who knew her speak of her self-sacrificing devotion to her foster parents and her son, her one thought being of what she could do for them and their comfort. Mrs. Baker, her foster mother, has an apartment at 25 Grove street although stopping temporarily with a sister on Center street. Mrs. Baker, the son named, her father, Edward Forbes Jr., and one brother, Edward Forbes and, and one sister, Mrs. Richard Judd, the latter of North Binghamton and the husband are the only surviving near relatives.

Funeral of S. D. Brooks.

There was a large attendance yesterday at the funeral of the late Stephen D. Brooks, which was held at the family home in Davenport Center. The services were conducted by Rev. George Summerson of the Methodist Episcopal church at that place, who read appropriate passages of scripture and followed with an address full of consolation to the family of the deceased. Among the numerous beautiful tributes were two from the Ladies' Aid society of the Davenport Center church and from the employees of the Hotel Bennett in Binghamton. The bearers were friends of the deceased, at Davenport Center. Burial was in the Oneonta Plains cemetery.

Besides the two daughters, Etta and Hazel, there were present from out of town Mr. and Mrs. George H. Chandler and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Brooks of Binghamton; Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Brooks of Fly Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Squire Brooks of Cooperstown; Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Meagley and Charles Brooks of Oneonta and Mrs. George Gould of Utica, and daughter.

MINISTERS NEED FREE HOSPITALS

Survey by Interchurch World Movement Reveals Prevalence of Poverty.

$1,242 HIGH AVERAGE SALARY FOR PROTESTANT PREACHERS

Clinics and Homes for Aged and Infirm and Better Salaries for Pastors Are Part of New Co-operation Program.

As a result of the campaign now being made by the Interchurch World Movement the combined Protestant churches of America will provide many more hospitals, clinics and homes for the aged and infirm. An interesting feature of these Protestant hospitals will be free treatment for ministers, as recent surveys made by the Interchurch organization have made the need for special dispensations very obvious.

The following startling facts were divulged as to the average salaries in the various denominations. Starting with the highest, the average for Episcopal ministers is $1,242; the average for Presbyterian (North), $1,177; for the United Presbyterians, $1,095; for the Reformed Church (Dutch), $1,170; for the Methodist Episcopal (North), $1,170; Congregational, $1,042; and for the Baptists (Northern), $930.

With government experts announcing that $1,500 is the lowest salary upon which a family can be decently maintained and suggesting budgets for none lower, ministers have a discouraging outlook. Such things as hospital bills are almost impossible to meet, and yet every normal family has some illness in its midst every year. Accordingly the Interchurch Movement, while on its way to obtain higher averages in salaries, will assist by providing free care in its institutions.

SUMMER HATS FLATTERING

This brilliant group of summer hats includes both large and small shapes that are in themselves classy. Lovely materials and colors make them flattering to their wearers. Fringed grills of changeable silk make the first hat just below it two-toned faillie ribbon is artfully used; at the left black tulle and braid, and the Russian turban is of embroidered silk.

DOG SEEKS AID FOR DYING

Whine in Vain to Obtain Help for Mistress Who Dies Suddenly.

Los Angeles.—Doughboy, a pedigreed bulldog, owned by T. C. Stevens of the bond firm of Stevens, Page & Sterling, was credited with an almost human attempt to summon help when Mrs. Stevens' aunt, Mrs. C. F. Endy, died suddenly at San Diego.

The dog, a thoroughbred in which the owner takes considerable pride, was left in Mrs. Endy's care by Mrs. Stevens.

During the night Mr. Endy was awakened by Doughboy. The dog was whining and moaning with such persistence that Mr. Endy, fearing his wife would be disturbed, went to the door and calling softly to the dog finally induced him to go into the other room. Doughboy exhibited a strange restlessness, resisting all efforts to quiet him. The man was puzzled. Only after a considerable time did he induce Doughboy to lie down. Then Mr. Endy went to sleep.

In the morning he found his wife's lifeless body. Doctors were immediately called. They pronounced it a case of heart failure and declared that Mrs. Endy had been dead several hours.

Today's Good Thought. Though all the winds of doctrine were let loose to play upon the earth, so truth be in the field, we do fearfully, by listening, and prohibiting, to midnight her strength. Let her and falsehood grapple; who ever knew Truth put to the worse in a free and open encounter.—Milton.

Work Hard and Avoid Worry. It is not work that kills men; it is worry. Work is healthful; you can hardly put more on a man than he can bear. Worry is rust upon the blade. It is not the revolution that destroys the machinery, but the friction.

U. S. BEHIND IN AIR COMMERCE

Foreign Nations Lead in Aerial Navigation.

EUROPE MAKES BIG STRIDES

Landing Fields and Better Terminals Are Needed in the United States to Aid Commercial Traffic Development—Five Regular Passenger Routes Already Established—British Company Plans Air Lines Around Earth.

Commercial aerial navigation became a reality in the United States during the last year. The sudden cessation of hostilities at the close of 1918 threw hundreds of airplanes into the market, and many of these were purchased by private companies and remodeled for commercial use.

Airplane manufacturers, whose energies had been devoted exclusively to the making of war machines, also turned their attention to the commercial possibilities of aircraft and have perfected several standard commercial types. It is estimated that there are more than 2,000 privately owned aircraft in the United States.

Five Routes Established. Five regular passenger routes were established. The airplane mail service, inaugurated May 15, 1918, between New York and Washington, as an experiment, was extended to Cleveland and Chicago and put on a definite basis; and scores of private firms purchased aircraft and utilized them for the delivery of merchandise and newspapers and for conducting aerial forest surveys and patrols.

Still greater strides were made in Europe and Australia, where there are few thickly populated centers that do not boast of regular aerial commercial traffic, either by airplane or dirigible, or both.

Lack of adequate facilities is considered one of the principal handicaps to aerial commercial traffic development in this country. If aerial transportation is to become universal, aircraft manufacturers point out that there must be established adequate airfields with definitely marked landing places, convenient to business centers and with facilities for housing the airmen and their machines and providing them with fuel and repairs.

In addition to the regular routes, a company at Seattle has started an international air mail, operating between that city and Vancouver, B. C. Several lumber companies in the northwest are using the airplane for forest patrols and surveys. A Newark, N. J., department store delivered merchandise by airplane to customers in Asbury Park last summer, while a large Chicago clothing house made a specialty of delivering clothes to college students within a 100-mile radius of that city.

Plane Spreads Gospel. One of the strangest uses for which the airplane is being considered is the spreading of the gospel in the Congo states of Africa. A large American manufacturer received a request for prices from the Congo mission of the Church of the Disciples of Christ, which is replacing steam launches with flying boats.

In Europe three English companies maintain regular passenger and parcel post service between London and Paris and London and Brussels. On one of the trips a grand piano was carried from a London store to its customer in France by airplane.

Zeppelins, as well as airplanes, have been used extensively for commercial purposes in Germany. Although little is known of German aviation development during the last few months, it is reported that several long air routes, including one from Berlin to London via Paris or Brussels, and another from Berlin to Constantinople via Vienna, will be put into operation during the coming year.

Commercial aerial service has been put into operation between Johannesburg and Cape Town, South Africa. Australia already has established a transcontinental route from Sydney to Port Darwin, on the north coast, a distance of 2,550 miles, with stopping points every 300 or 400 miles. Experimental commercial aerial journeys of more than 1,000 miles also have been made from Calcutta to other points of India, and regular routes are now under consideration.

A British company was organized last June, with a capital of many millions of dollars, for the establishment of airship lines virtually around the earth. A route from London to New York will be the first to be put into operation, if the company's plans are carried out.

Picts and Scots.

In his Dictionary of Phrase and Fable, the learned Rev. Dr. E. Cobham Brewer, writes upon Picts and Scots: "Pict is not the Latin pict (painted people). As Picts and Scots are always mentioned together, there is no reason why one name should be Latin and the other Gaelic. Scot is the Gaelic 'sgod' (a dweller in woods and forests), and Pict is the Gaelic pict-ist (free-boater), the two being equivalent to foresters and free-boaters."

To Preserve Ferns.

There are at least two very satisfactory ways to preserve maiden-hair ferns. One is to dip the ferns as soon as gathered in perfectly limpid gum water. This should be done very carefully. After allowing them to drain for two or three minutes, arrange in a vase to dry. Another very good way is to put the ferns, when first gathered, between two clean sheets of blotting paper. Lay between boards and press for a week or so.

Ancient Eccentric Had Spent Life Outdoors

St. Louis.—St. Louis has just lost a singular character in "Old Dad" Merton at the age of seventy-one. He had always scorned the habits of humans such as sleeping in beds, wearing underclothing, or using a toothbrush, yet could display an unblemished set of teeth.

One of the chief amusements of the children in his neighborhood was to watch "Dad" bite through heavy glass and tableware or chunks of wood. In the summer time he slept in Forest park and in the winter wherever he could find shelter. He bathed daily when the weather was propitious in a suburban creek.

Every fall he took a long walk to the Ozarks, which he referred to as his constitutional. He scorned sugar, cream or fresh bread, preferring hard crusts and the simplest fare.

Possibly he would have lived many years longer had not a fall downstairs at the home of a friend resulted in his death.

SCHOLARS TO GET RECORDS

Attendants of Welsh Schools and Colleges Will Embark on an Interesting Experiment.

Wales, through her schools, is about to launch an experiment. Schools and colleges have been invited to make a collection of all the Welsh field, place and road names, including those of lanes, hills, woods, mounds and dykes, and to mark on the six-inch Ordnance map the spots to which the names are attached.

A fund has been placed at the disposal of the Welsh department to provide the materials for the records, which will be collated by the board of Celtic studies in connection with the university of Wales, and deposited in the Welsh library.

Each school is recommended to retain a duplicate of the record, which can be added to from time to time. Space is provided for supplemental information on such matters as the existence of rural industries; the survival of old or curious customs or crafts; peculiar words or pronunciations; local proverbs or quaint sayings; the use of old agricultural implements; particulars of interesting local "characters" who may have been distinguished by their oddities, their benefactions, or their services during the war.

Though it is intended for Wales, there is no reason why a similar scheme should not be put into force in the other parts of the United Kingdom. The framers of the scheme have hit upon a method of making the teaching of history and geography a very living thing, of great educational and national value.—London Mail.

SLEEPING PLAGUE IN LONDON

Physicians Puzzled Over Ailment Which Resembles "Sleeping Sickness."

London.—Eight or nine cases of what appears to be a new phase of the deadly "sleeping sickness" are puzzling the London hospital doctors.

A representative medical committee is investigating the new diseases. The house surgeon states it is too early to make a definite statement. So far no common factor save the overpowering desire to sleep has been found in cases under notice, nor has it been possible yet to trace the origin of each. There is said to be no cause for alarm as to the possible spread of the disease.

Hope to Reclaim Burning Mine.

The fire which for more than twenty years has burned in the upper levels of the United Verde copper mine, near Jerome, Ariz., is about to be eliminated by a drastic process of lowering the entire surface of the property to a 400-foot level. All attempts to extinguish the fire have failed.

It is the general opinion that the fire was started by a slip in the rock producing sufficient friction heat to ignite the ores rich in sulphur. It has burned its way through veins of copper, gold and sulphur.

The process of suppressing the fire involves the removal of 14,000,000 cubic yards of material. The area to be excavated is roughly estimated at 400 by 800 feet. Monster steam shovels are to be employed in the work.

It is expected that the task of removing the entire top of the mine and to extinguish the fire will occupy several years.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the pleasant, white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia), 30c and 60c jars. TUNNELS 5,700 FEET LONG

Pittsburgh Puts Tubes Through Hills
South of the Monongahela
River.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Twin tunnels, each 5,700 feet long, for the use of vehicles and pedestrians, are being bored through the range of hills bordering the southern side of the Monongahela River valley here, in order that the thousands of persons who live in the southern part of Allegheny county and work in Pittsburgh may more easily reach the city.

Work on the tunnels which began a few days ago, will continue for more than two years, engineers estimate, and the cost will be $4,600,000.

It is proposed to have the tunnels connected with a high bridge which will span the Monongahela river and bring the tunnel traffic to the heart of the business district of Pittsburgh. This will cost $2,500,000. Each tunnel will be made to accommodate two lines of vehicle traffic, and in addition there will be four paths.

Seeing Life in the Army.

An English soldier who had enlisted in London for two years' service recently described his duty as being "to ride a funeral par." Further explanations showed that his time was spent in driving the gun carriage horses at military funerals in London—soldiers, ex-soldiers, veterans, hospital cases, and so on. And he sadly added that the advertisement said, "Join the army and see the world. It's a man's life."

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

LITTLE CHANCE TO SIGNAL MARS

Gigantic Searchlight Would Be Necessary.

HOPE BLASTED BY SCIENCE

Light Bright Enough to Be Distinguished by a Martian Would Have About 765 Trillion Candle Power—If Martians Have Big Enough Telescope They Could See Light Waves From Earth, Is Claim of Prominent Scientist.

Any daring person who plans to guide a weary wanderer from Mars by placing the poetic candle in the window had better abandon the idea. It can't be done. The little Martian would be lost in the deep and vast void with not one candle to guide his airy footsteps.

Thus another fight of fancy is blasted by science, for it is estimated that an earth light just bright enough to be distinguished by the eye of a Martian would have to have 765 trillion candle power. And when one talks in trillions it doesn't mean a thing.

This figure is given by Dr. Clarence Errol Ferree, professor of experimental psychology at Bryn Mawr college, which is now seeking a $2,000,000 endowment. Dr. Ferree is the best known authority on light in its relation to vision. He reached his conclusion by laboratory experiments which confirm the deductions made by the searchlight experts of the Sperry Gyroscope company, who believe that it is possible to throw a beam of light visible to Martians.

What the Engineers Find.

Professor Ferree's figures check up remarkably with the estimates made by the searchlight engineers, who pointed out that it was unusual that experiments based on actual experience give the same result as careful laboratory work under ideal conditions. The calculations made by George B. Crouse, department engineer, and P. R. Bassett, physicist of the Sperry company, showed that one candle power is visible at .46 of a mile, while Professor Ferree's estimate, based on the minimum candle power visible at three meters, shows a candle power to be visible at .56 of a mile. The difference is accounted for by absorption, for which Professor Ferree may not have made allowance.

The engineers' figures were also predicated on the supposition that the Martians have telescopes with a light gathering power of 8,000, which is much less than the light gathering power of the large telescopes on earth. But Professor Ferree, with the aid of accurate means he has of measuring light, was able first to determine the minimum amount of light visible to the eye at three meters and then carry this out by mathematical calculation to show the light visible at Mars when it is 35,000,000 miles away, its nearest point of approach to the earth.

Can Work by Massed Searchlights.

The enormous candle power necessary to produce such a beam of light is inconceivable to the mind, but not impossible of production. It would not be necessary, Mr. Crouse and Mr. Bassett believe, to construct one single reflector. The same result would be attained by massing searchlights of tremendous individual candle power. And the difficulty would not be the production of sufficient current to light them but the great cost of construction. It is not likely that there are enough searchlights in the world to produce anywhere near enough light to be seen by the naked eye of the Martians.

The largest searchlight made by the Sperry firm produces 1,250,000,000 candle power, but it would take 695,250 of these to produce 765 trillion candle power. So unless the Martians have some kind of telescopes, it is not likely that they will have the opportunity right away to catch a flash from the earth.

FARM HELP GETS RAISE

Men on Nebraska Farms Will Draw $100 a Month This Year.

Farmers in attendance at an agricultural meeting at Lincoln, Neb., said they had made contracts with reliable and competent hired men at $100 a month. They said it was necessary to do so for the reason that the supply of competent farm labor was limited.

The average paid in the state 15 years ago ran from $20 to $25 a month. During the war and last year, with the $2 wheat guarantee in effect, $75 and $90 was paid.

The increase of wages in the cities and towns is also given as a reason for the necessity of paying $100 a month to get the best men.

Fishing With Axes.

Edwardsville, Ill. — Fishing with axes is a "sport" in Illinois now. In the ponds and lakes around Edwardsville the fish come up close to the frigid coating to get air. They may be seen through the clear ice. The "hunter" strikes the ice just above the fish, which is stunned by the concussion. A hole is then chopped and the fish taken out. Numbers of fine catfish are obtained every day by this method.
